DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).
2. In the instant claim there are six claims number 36. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 33, 36-41, 44-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leschinsky (US 2001/0029349).

Leschinsky discloses in figure 6, a system for affecting a renal system comprising a local renal drug delivery catheter with a first and second portion and a second end portion comprising a first and second conduit (160,162) that extend distally from the first end portion, wherein the first and second conduits is coupled to a source of fluid agent (para [0050], [0051]), wherein the second end portion is adapted to be delivered, in a first condition with the first and second conduits at radially collapsed positions relative to each other, transverse to the longitudinal axis, at least in part to a location associated with first and second renal artery osita along an abdominal aorta; and wherein the first and second conduit can deliver fluid into the arteries simultaneously. Leschinsky fails to disclose the specific drugs being claimed.

Although Leschinsky does not teach the specific drugs claimed, Leschinsky does teach that the set maybe used to administer "all types of medical drugs or serums." Since Leschinsky is taught as a device for "treating kidney diseases" (paragraph [0010]), it would have been obvious to include a drug adapted to affect renal function as claimed. Applicant claims a wide range of renal drugs, both broadly by function, and narrowly by name. In Applicant's own specification, at page 2 lines 4-13. Applicant discloses that administration of these drugs are "previously known methods" of treating acute renal (kidney) failure. Thus, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to administer these using the device of Leschinsky.

The examiner would like to note, that MPEP section 2114 states, that in order to receive an apparatus patent, there must be some structurally different elements, and recommends that the applicant incorporates the structure that is different and that allows the claimed invention to perform the different function then the prior art

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments, filed 4/18/07, with respect to Choi (USPN 6,482,211) have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 102 Rejection has been withdrawn.

6. There are no arguments drawn to Leschinsky. The examiner still believes that Leschinsky reads on the claimed invention and therefore has kept the rejection. The examiner has also supplied the patent of the PG pub to show the support and to keep

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
